Oklahoma City Park Slides Are Not For Grownups

Oklahoma City, May 22.—(P)—Slides in Oklahoma city parks are for children—not grownups, the city contended today in defending a $15,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Inez Vanderlick, 31, who alleged she suffered injuries when she fell on a rock after scooting down a slide at Lincoln park.

Washington, May 22.—(P)—The "please remit" notes, always sent by the United States to debtor nations 30 days before installments on war debts fall due, have not yet been dispatched to the thirteen nations that have installments of $175,000,000 payable on June 15.

No explanation was given at the state department for the fact that the usual formal notifications are now seven days overdue except that no official debt listing had been received from the treasury department.

Delay in sending the notes was said in well-informed circles, however, to have been deliberate to await disclosure of President Roosevelt's views on the question in his war debts message to congress this week.

Undersecretary of state Phillips, who is handling the war debt negotiations for the department, conferred with the president today on foreign affairs, including the debts question. The white house made no official announcement but it was understood Phillips was called in to give the president the latest available debt data for incorporation in the war debts message.

Discussions have been held by the president with Sir Ronald Lindsay concerning Great Britain's installment due June 15 but there was no confirmation of reports that a compromise settlement had been agreed upon. In some quarters it was said, however, that there was a possibility that the British ambassador had contributed data and views on which the president might base some paragraphs in his message.

Meanwhile, there came from the chamber of commerce of the United States Henry L. Harriman, a statement that business men felt the industrial recovery act had done much good but that there also was a widespread fear that an act, based on the self regulation of business with government approval of such regulations, might become an automatic act, for the regeneration of business by the government.

Britten Resolution

The Britten resolution called for a special committee of five house members to investigate "every phase of the basis of the report (the Darrow report) just made public which exposes a condition that is in complete conflict with the desires of the president and his policies."

Should the investigation substantiate the findings of the board, the resolution flatly proposed the investigating committee "recommend to the house proper legislation for the immediate abolishment of the national recovery administration."

Pending the completion of the congressional inquiry, Britten would have the review board maintained "as an integral part of the national recovery administration." Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, proposed to President Roosevelt the review board be abolished "forthwith." Word has been passed out that the administration intends to allow the Darrow board to expire at the end of this month.

Installments due on June 15 from other nations are: Belgium $150,453.82; Czechoslovakia $1,682,812.78; Estonia $327,550.29; Finland $166,538; France $59,000,218.57; Hungary $32,669.93; Italy $14,741,593.36; Latvia $134,883.26; Lithuania $147,864.26; Poland $43,036.02; Rumania $1,248,750.08; Yugoslavia $300,000.

Great Britain, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Latvia and Lithuania made token payments approximating ten per cent of the amount due on the last payment date, December 15. Finland paid its installment in full, but other nations defaulted.

GLENN CLAIMS LINCOLN WOULD DENOUNCE N. R. A.

In addition to hearing Barrett and former U. S. Senator Otto F. Glenn of Illinois, the state's last republican Senator, the bankers attended a meeting of the mid-day Luncheon Club which was addressed by Norman Thomas, nationally known socialist and that party's candidate for president.

Thomas, who yesterday was arrested at Taylorville when a crowd he sought to address was dispersed by tear gas bombs thrown by deputy sheriffs, spoke of his experiences in the Christian county coal field.

"Deputy sheriffs in Christian county," Thomas charged, "are paid by the Peabody Coal Company and are recruited from New York and Chicago ganas."

There is great danger in a situation, Thomas said, where sole enforcement of the law rests with employees of a coal corporation.

Pittman replied later that he had talked to Mr. Roosevelt after Thomas' speech and that it was the president's view that the measure put silver on the same basis with gold.

Some of the deputy sheriffs of Christian county bear the marks of gangsters except that they wear a badge given them by the Peabody Coal company, the former socialist candidate for the presidency told the bankers.

He claimed conditions in Christian county threatened freedom of speech, the press, and assembly.

Divisional state vice-president elected by members of the American Bankers' Association were: S. G. Smith, Winchester, National Banks; L. G. Wilson, Rock Island, State Banks; F. Guy Hitt, Ziegler, Savings Banks; John C. Wright, Chicago, Trust Companies.

The Association adopted a resolution favoring a new banking code for the state. The code, as desired by the bankers, would provide for a separate state department of banking among other suggested changes. Such a code would have to be first passed by the legislature and then placed on the ballot for a state-wide referendum.

PRaises INSULL

Lincoln, if he were alive today would denounce the NRA as the biggest farce ever imposed upon a free people in the time of peace and would say to General Johnson (recovery administrator)—"general, you are a patriotic, high-minded, strenuous American. You have carried on under an unbearable burden. You have earned and shall have a permanent vacation. Goodbye, you have done your part. I give you the blue eagle. Don't forget to take him with you when you go."

Lincoln would say, Glenn continued, "Let us consider what the experience of our country has been under the constitution and our laws and our mode of life." And while some were crying failure and disappointment and need for new ideals and purposes, Lincoln would say: "Let us hesitate and study."

Glenn added: "To those misguided, unsound, impractical dreamers who in this time of crisis would have America look to the minarets of Moscow for her salvation, I say: Look, instead, for your inspiration in the tomb of Lincoln, not in the fads, frills and fancies of the godless revolutionists of Russia. America lies America's salvation; instead it lies at the end of the paths of simplicity, of common sense, of individual initiative, of personal freedom, of observation of the constitution."

Women, it seems, must go completely equipped for all occasions.

Money, keys and handkerchiefs are a mere beginning. In addition, the handbag must somehow be made to contain an emergency mending kit, file, beauty compact, shot-shining outfit, letters, stamps, pencil, fountain pen, perfume, snapshots of the baby, clippings, address book, check book, shopping list, safety pins and enough odds and ends to awe a magician. Some of these possessions are just accumulated, like a man's collection of pocket treasures. Most of them, however, are especially designed for handbag service and are so advertised. Their presence in the handbag seems to be conclusive evidence of the power of advertising.

Tourist Trade and The Dollar
Editorial Opinion of the Cleveland Plain Dealer

Steamship companies and tourist agencies are trying to convince American vacationers that the decline in the gold value of the dollar has not increased the cost of foreign travel. They point out that the cost of most of the services tourists buy abroad have been reduced; that rail and hotel rates have declined as much as the value of the dollar in terms of francs, pounds and liras has declined.

There must have been a considerable deflation in living costs abroad in the last few months if these representations are true. For many Americans who had lived abroad found it necessary to move soon after the dollar depreciation policy was adopted. The government, recognizing the decline in the purchasing power of the dollar, increased the compensation of civil servants abroad when they protested that their meager incomes in the face of depreciation were insufficient to enable them to live comfortably in fifty years.

From 1863 to 1867 there was a blight of chinch bugs that destroyed the crops of the Middle West. Strangely enough the infestation of this year covers almost the exact area as that of the earlier day.

This time the bugs have more of an advantage. Then the country was not almost solid with grain and corn fields but there were intervening patches of raw prairie and woodland to serve as barriers. Altho science knows more about chinch bugs today, they are harder to fight because they can migrate more quickly from one field to another.

The bugs hibernated in large numbers last winter and only about 3 percent of them were killed by cold weather. Every female bug surviving means 150 bugs in the grain fields this spring, and 10,000 bugs in the corn fields later on. Aside from the building of barriers, the greatest hope for extermination of the bugs lies in wet weather. Heavy rains will wash the pests from the plants to which they cling and beat them into the ground.

The chinch bugs have increased because of the prolonged drought. Wet weather causes to thrive a fungus which feeds on the bugs and destroys them; but in dry weather the spores of this fungus are dormant, permitting the bugs freedom from their enemies.

The Chinch bug has no jaws and therefore does not eat the plants. It has a long sharp stinger which it inserts in the stems of the leaves and thru which it sucks out the plant sap. Attacked by large numbers of bugs, a plant will cease growing and often shrivel up and fall over and die.

Already the Illinois Department of Agriculture has appealed for federal funds with which to fight chinch bugs. It costs money to erect and maintain chemical barriers around fields of growing crops. The farmer always courageous, will do the best he can to save his season's labor; but it is hoped nature will come to his aid and destroy the pests before it is too late.

In case you never met a chinch bug, he is a tiny insect about a sixth of an inch long and rather gray in color with a white X on his back formed by the edges of the folded wings. The young bugs are yellowish red in color. They shed their skins five times before they become full-grown.

The Horse's Mistake

Out in Colorado a horse 21 years old was brought up from a mine where he had spent 13 years hauling coal and was turned into a pasture of luxuriant green grass. The light blinded him; he stumbled about the enclosure sniffed at the grass, but refused to eat it. He had been used to dry hay and knew nothing about grass. To him it was no treat, and there was no pleasure in his first experience with the fresh air and sunshine above ground. No doubt he would have been glad enough to return to the mine.

That horse will adjust himself to the new conditions; he will learn what is good for him. His mistake will not be in refusing to adapt himself, but rather in not recognizing at once the new world into which he had come. For this he can hardly be blamed; thirteen years in darkness and mine air would dull any memory. But instinct is powerful, and the horse will learn to like grass and to bear the light.

Natural ability for adaptation helps an animal to adjust itself to new environment, provided its freedom is not restricted. But human beings are not so easily changed. A great deal of the unhappiness in this world is caused by failure of people to adjust themselves to changing conditions. They long for what used to be and mourn over what they believe to be worse times than they have ever seen. They surround the past with a halo of pleasant memory and greet the present not with smiles, but with sighs of regret.

However, there is always green grass, cool water, fresh air and healthful sunlight. No age has ever had a monopoly on goodness, and neither has there ever been an age altogether bad. The world is much as it always has been, because human nature does not change. Making the best of life as we find it is an art which every man should covet for himself, but which for many requires much cultivation.

The New Deal in Washington

Cousens Burns Borah: Too Dumb to Vote in Senate... New Name Is Wanted For Subsistence Homesteads... Pennsy Vote Proves G. O. P. Still Lives... Black Certain to Quit Banking Post.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington, May 22.—Ten years ago Senator James Couzens, the blunt and honest Michigan millionaire who made his fortune with Henry Ford, privately offered to finance presidential campaign for Senator William E. Borah if Borah would run.

Now Couzens has given Borah the worst plastering the great Idahoan ever received from anyone. Losing his temper, he implied that Borah was too dumb to be entitled to a vote in the Senate.

Of course you simply don't say that sort of thing to another senator. Least of all do you say it to Borah.

Couzens was supporting an amendment to the industrial loans bill when Borah asserted his belief that neither amendment nor bill would help the small industries. Couzens lost his temper.

The senator apparently injects himself into a subject which he has not thoroughly analyzed, he declared hotly. "I see the senator's name blazoned in newspaper headlines as endorsing the infamous McLeod bill."

"I do not know how accurate the newspapers are in that statement, but anyone who is so lacking in judgment as to endorse the so-called McLeod bill is not entitled, in my judgment, to vote on the floor of the Senate."

Borah took it calmly, but pressed the question. Couzens, more mildly explained.

Couzens wouldn't repeat his presidential campaign offer today, but he doesn't really feel that way about Borah. Hard work at the London conference and in the Michigan banking mess, steady grinding on tax, banking, and other difficult measures has already bearing fruit.

Tourist expenditures in this country on a large scale have never before appeared in our balance of international payments. They will be another item tending to make the dollar firm in terms of foreign currencies, and in forcing our balance of payments further to the "favorable" side, unless offset by increasing imports or other "unfavorable" factors.

portunities for craftsmanship and self-expression.

The G. C. P. Still Lives

The important aspect of the Pennsylvania primary result, to insiders here, is its answer to a serious question as to the continued existence of the Republican party. If Governor Pinchot had defeated Senator Reed, that interrogation point would have begun to overshadow the whole campaign.

Speaker Rainey had been telling people that there were no longer two parties—that they had just merged. Now he must get any possible encouragement for the idea from Democrat rather than Republican primaries.

But the question was in many minds and its seriousness was indicated by the fact that political sharks were actually expecting vindication of the New Deal in a purely Republican contest in the strongest Republican state of all.

Black Determined to Quit

Roosevelt paid an unusual tribute when Gov. Eugene R. Black of the Federal Reserve Board made his most recent attempt to quit.

"I'll order out the marines to keep you here if necessary," he threatened.

But Black will go. For months important personal interests have been calling him back to Atlanta.

With the whole monetary and credit situation in a state of flux, Black has been in a hot spot. Originally he was a sound money man, but went over to Roosevelt's modified version of sound money.

Competent, although unspectacular, the governor has been of great assistance in reassuring conservative banking and business interests as to New Deal currency policies.

To the Editor of THE Journal-Courier:

Beverly Hills, Calif., May 22.—The big argument now is between Mr. Darrow and General Hugh Johnson. Now there is a couple of tough babies to run together. Here is a thing that in Johnson's favor, the report is 322 multiographed pages, now there can be an awful lot of things wrong with a think, but 322 pages is kinder rubbing it in, it would almost have to be Dillinger to have that many things wrong with it.

Poor old NRA if we all had spent as much time observing it as we have been arguing over it, it would have worked right or wrong, there is great good in it, and evidently great ill in it. Now if both sides are not broadminded enough to see and admit it, then let the argument continue, but charge admission for it.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

Three features of the show of especial interest in the garden of Mrs. Courtney Crouch Wright, 117 Finley street, will be a display of artistic bouquets, three groupings of garden furniture and numerous tables set for outdoor refreshments. A tent will house the competition in artistic bouquets.

The Charles Capps peony field, at the residence of Mrs. Walter Frank, 244 Park street, contains a most comprehensive collection of the best peonies.

In addition to these gardens, the following gardens will be open to the public on Wednesday afternoon and Thursday.

The gardens are: Mrs. W. D. Cody, 821 West Douglas avenue; Mrs. Fred Randall, 233 Westminster street; Mrs. P. W. Fox, 729 West Douglas avenue; Mrs. G. W. Cramer, 500 South Fayette street; Mrs. Chester Colton, 1235 Parnassus Place; Mrs. C. A. Johnson, 229 Lockwood Place.

Committees and committee chairmen are: Mrs. Courtney Crouch Wright (general chairman); Mrs. C. A. Johnson, Miss Eleanor Moore, Miss Adele McCullum, Mrs. Garm Norbury, Mrs. Fred Randall, Mrs. Harold Auld and Miss Chestine Kendall.

Commencement exercises were held Monday night at the Woodson High school with an address, "Signposts on the Way to Success," delivered by Rev. A. Vanderhorst, pastor of the Woodson Presbyterian church. Nine young men and women were graduated.

Rev. Vanderhorst in his address compared the graduates with ships leaving port for unknown destinations.

The patrolmen said they also were on the watch for trucks of improper license classification, and for cars with last year's licenses. Fines are now being imposed for failure to display 1934 plates.

Working under orders from the Springfield office, the patrolmen said their stay on the routes through Jacksonville would be indefinite.

The new Woodson pastor is a former president of the Lincoln College.

He conducted a revival at Northminster church here last fall and is well known in Jacksonville.

Members of the graduating class of the Woodson school are Louise Blilman, Richard Watia, James Mitchell, Irene Megginson, Orville Owens, Louise McCulley, Irene Hudson, Virginia Dyer and Edra Henry.

A special grand jury to report for duty in circuit court June 14 was ordered Tuesday by Judge Victor Hempill.

The grand jury was called on petition of State's Attorney W. H. Asher, who stated that a number of cases are up for investigation.

Macks Score 5 Runs in Ninth But Browns Come Back With 6 and Capture Ball Game 12-11

St. Louis, May 22.—(P)—Rogers Hornsby's Browns watched the Athletics come from behind today and score nine runs in two innings, then launched a spectacular counter-attack which netted six runs in the ninth and gave St. Louis a 12 to 11 victory.

A Brown lead of 4 to 1 faded in the eighth when the visitors put together an error, two walks, three singles and a triple for four runs.

A renewal of the Philadelphia attack in the ninth, featured by Foxx's home, brought 5 more scores. Then the Browns advanced to the victorious attack, which ended with Pinch-hitter Garris' double with two mates on base.

REDEGS WALLOP BRAVES 10 TO 4

Boston, May 22.—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds whaled three Boston pitchers for 17 hits, including two homers, today to give Paul Derringer, their hard-luck righthander, his first victory of the season, 10 to 4.

Every Red hit safely during the slugfest. Chick Hafey hit his eighth 1934 homer into the left field stands.

Ernie Lombardi found the same stands in the sixth with none on.

Hafey and Lombardi drove in six of the Red's tallies.

Cincinnati errors paved the way for all of the Boston runs.

DETROIT. May 22.—(P)—Making his third start of the season, Alvin Crowder pitched the Washington Senators to a 5 to 2 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the series final today.

Crowder and Bridges went the route for their respective clubs, each allowing 11 hits. Washington, however, crowded four of its hits into the eighth inning, mixed them with a Detroit error and emerged with a three-run advantage to break a tie.

With one out in the eighth, Cronin doubled off the left field wall and advanced to third as Harris grounded to Owen. Stone then singled over Bridges' head to score Cronin. He advanced to second as Travis singled to left field. Phillips rapped out a single to center and, when Walker booted the ball, Stone and Travis trotted home.

TWO CONVICTED FOR PUBLISHING CHARGES AGAINST CANDIDATES

Asheville, N. C., May 22.—(P)—Harold H. Thoms, publisher of the Asheville Advocate, a weekly newspaper, and Gus Torgerson, its editor, today stood convicted by a police court of publishing unsigned derogatory charges concerning political candidates, and had until May 28 to pay fines of $600 and $100 respectively.

Thoms and Torgerson also were given contingent suspended sentences of 12 months on the roads, execution to issue within two years on the motion of the court. The publisher and the editor pleaded guilty to the charges after first pleas of "not guilty."

Prosecution witnesses categorically denied the paper's charges that a conference took place at the Washington office of Rep. Zebulon Weaver (D., N. C.) at which representatives of holders of a majority of city and county bonds offered leaders of a local "political ring" money to be used in electing candidates favorable to settling the $55,000.00 debt in full.

Legality of the bond issues has been questioned by taxpayers' groups, and they have sought a general scaling down of the debts.

Chicago, May 22.—(P)—Mrs. Frances Allen Smith, 26, today was reported to have received a settlement of $50,000 in obtaining a divorce from Mauran "Bud" Smith, wealthy great grandson of Daniel Wells, founder of the Wells Fargo Express Company.

Mrs. Smith met her husband four years ago and they were married in 1931. She was given the divorce on grounds of cruelty and accepted the settlement in lieu of alimony, the attorneys said.

The cooling shower which came to this community Monday night was gratefully received, but it was not sufficient to relieve the drought. However, the south part of the county was more favored. Visitors here from Waverly today reported an inch of rain at that place and that it was of great benefit in crops. According to County Commissioner William Rees, there was three-quarters of an inch of rain at Franklin.

But the best evidence of a good rain comes from Manchester. Walter Foster was driving to his home here from the south last night. At Manchester he encountered the storm, which was of downpour proportions. His car skidded and went in the ditch. He had to get a farmer with a team of horses to pull the car out of mud. His evidence of a good rain Tuesday was a car covered with old-fashioned mud.

East of the city the shower was as light as in the town itself. However, the rain did break the heat wave, which reached its height Monday, and brought a delightful coolness, along with some good light and sound effects in the form of thunder and lightning.

Miss Faye Craddock, Murrayville, Route 1, became a patient at Passavant hospital Monday.

Miss Lucy Reuter of Winchester entered Passavant Tuesday to undergo treatment.

The oiling of the streets and alleys is expected to commence about June 1. The streets and alleys have been cleaned of cans and other rubbish during the past week by city trucks. Mayor W. Price Lindsey again requests that all ashes and other dirt which has been piled in alleys be hauled away at once before the oiling starts.

Modern Fire Proof
Stockyards Planned

By GILES FINDLEY

Chicago, May 22.—(P)—A new and fire proof stockyards, yet one with familiar features will rise from the ashes of the one almost destroyed by fire last week.

The nine story exchange building will probably not be razed. Its walls and foundations are intact. At the time of the fire, 127 commission firms had offices there—the nerve center of the vast industry.

One of the little ironies of the fire was the fact that the eighty acres across from the conflagration raised was literally lined with water. The vast acres of the stock pens were filled with metal and stone water troughs from which beasts might drink, and these troughs were supplied with water from an intricate network of pipes and conduits which placed spigots on tap every few feet.

The "U. S. Yards, Chicago," so long known to every livestock breeder and shipper in the middle west and west carries the imposing official name of the Union Stock Yards and Transit Company. This company has been in existence since 1865.

Records for 1865, from 1865 to 1933, inclusive, show the following receipts of livestock:

Cattle, 157,723; calves, 20,137; 053; hogs, 451,450,022; sheep, 194,913; 540; and horses, 3,892,929; a grand total of $19,671,665,743.

Shipments of livestock from the yards in the same period totalled 225,931,193, making a total of 1,054,049,127 head of livestock handled by employees of the yards.

During the peak of prosperity, it was estimated that one-sixth of Chicago's population was employed in the yards and in contiguous and supplementary industries.

John C. Fernandes Summoned by Death

John C. Fernandes, a lifetime resident of Jacksonville, passed away at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at his home, 760 West Lafayette avenue.

Mr. Fernandes, who followed the occupation of carpenter for a number of years, had been ill health for a long period, but his last illness was of two weeks duration.

He was born here January 27, 1863 and was united in marriage Oct. 2, 1890 with Anna DeFrates of this city. He was the last member of his immediate family.

Surviving are his wife and a number of nieces and nephews.

The remains were removed to the A. G. Cody Funeral Home where services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The family requests the omission of flowers.

BLOODY BATTLES ARE RAGING ALONG PARTS OF CHACO WAR FRONT

Asuncion, Paraguay, May 22.—(P)—Furious fighting raged today along scattered sections of the Chaco front as Bolivian forces maneuvered in attempt to draw the Paraguayan army into a premature offensive upon Fort Ballivian.

An advance of the Paraguayan left wing to the north was reported, but the minister of defense in Asuncion said word from the battle zones indicated the Paraguayan command was not ready to launch its general advance.

The delay in opening the offensive against the fort, Bolivia's most important stronghold, indicated that General Jose Estigarribia is taking fully into consideration the dangers that await his troops in what probably will be the decisive battle of the Gran Chaco warfare.

The plan, as announced by Harry L. Hopkins, calls for agreements between creditors and farmers that foreclosures on livestock will not be pushed.

If creditors do foreclose, the relief administration will undertake to supply necessary animals as part of the rural rehabilitation program.

Another new step called for was to encourage the government of $1,000,000 in forage crop seed in a gamble that rain would come in time to make it grow.

FIREMEN RESCUE
MEN AND WOMEN

A little later, when firemen got the body out, it was identified as that of Schieffelin.

The ancient who ran the elevator of the building was still talking wildly as police sought to question him.

"I just got the car up to the top floor," he finally calmed enough to say, "and opened the door when the whole thing went bang right in my face. A girl ran up to me screaming and I put her in the car and rescued her."

There were some 40 women on the top floor, police found later, employees of a dress manufacturing company. They had to flee by way of the outside fire escapes.

60 POLICEMEN HELD AT BAY BY TWO MEN; ARE FINALLY NABBED

Chicago, May 22.—(P)—Sixty police men subdued two men who barricaded in a west side flat, held six squads of officers at bay with shotguns and shouts of defiance today.

One of them, Harry Stoen, 45, was taken to a hospital as the result of a beating he received from the officers, and the other, Anthony Mrozek, an automobile mechanic, was taken to the station with Miss Rose Szczepanski, 21, who said she was a nurse for Stoen's five year old daughter, Caroline.

The disturbance first came to the attention of police when complaint was made that a bullet had been fired through the floor of Stoen's second floor quarters.

When the officers arrived, two men leaned out the window. One jeered almost incoherently in broken English, while the other fired at the policeman over his shoulder.

The officers ran for cover, demanding that they surrender.

LOCAL RESIDENTS HEAR NORMAN THOMAS

Local residents heard Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, in an address at Springfield yesterday. Mr. Thomas spoke at the Midday Lunch club at noon.

Mr. Thomas' address was given in part as follows:

"We are laboring in this country under a mismanagement of abundance. The problem of the people is to find the art of equitable distribution. There will be no peace in the social order nor any prosperity until this problem is solved. There is bound to be a social failure in a governmental program that restricts abundance. The people of the United States have been very docile under this bewildering situation.

"Some have marveled that the cessation of the C. W. A. program has been accepted without confusion and disorder on the part of those laid off of work. Don't be fooled this acceptance of the lay off peacefully will not last for any long time. No people will be fool enough to perish from thirst when they are within the sound of running water.

There will be no safety, prosperity or peace as long as these conditions exist. We can have abundance. We do not have abundance. We will have abundance. Be assured of this fact.

The New Deal is not socialism. Clarence Dartor has helped me out lately in making that plain. Our plan of government may have wonderful features and it may be as strong as the Plymouth Rock and the Rock of Gibraltar and yet we are in trouble under it.

Collectivism was on the march long before we recognized it. A collectivism that is without social good. Collectivism that permits a few banks in New York and Chicago to exercise control of all the money of the country is bad.

Some plan must be devised for the equitable distribution of the abundance that exists in the United States that will make for social contentment.

The problem before us in the present is not regimentation of industry but a simpler system of capitalism that will share in the abundance with all of the people. The real problem of the social order today is one of managed abundance. A plan that will permit us to produce a margin beyond what we need and allot a consumer's choice of that margin.

There is a field for social engineering that will make possible the regulation of the abundance for society's consumption. We can and we must do orderly what is now being done chaotically. There cannot exist a planned society without some degree of regimentation.

Christian county has placed a definite embargo on public assembly. Is this an attitude for a community to assume toward society worthy of the name of Abraham Lincoln. Justice is prostituted and disregarded in Christian county. There is more dynamite in a situation such as I stumbled into at Taylorville yesterday than you think. If this condition continues no man can tell the ultimate result but you can be sure of one thing it will some day produce a whirlwind."

I WALKED a row of twilights,
Heart-hoping I would see
Your face some quiet hour
And when you stopped at me
Old dreams would stir, believe
That your eyes, brave and wise,
Remembering, would wonder
To our brief Paradise.

ONE sun-bright noon I found you,
But you no longer wore
The shining steel blue armor
That I had loved before
Our little road to Heaven
Would vaguely down the hill;
Your plumes were grey and drugged...
Why do I love you still?

of the rainless states, there were a few light showers that helped bring relief from the intense heat, but which gave little help to the farmers.

Showers were predicted in parts of Illinois, Indiana, lower Michigan, Missouri and Kansas today, but no general downpour was in sight.

Meanwhile, reports continued to pour in from many sections of irreparable damage from the long dry spell. H. C. Donovan, a Chicago crop expert, said wheat stands in western Kansas, eastern Colorado and Nebraska were virtually ruined.

Crops in other sections of the wheat belt, he added, may be saved if heavy rains fall within the next two weeks.

Christian county has placed a definite embargo on public assembly. Is this an attitude for a community to assume toward society worthy of the name of Abraham Lincoln. Justice is prostituted and disregarded in Christian county. There is more dynamite in a situation such as I stumbled into at Taylorville yesterday than you think. If this condition continues no man can tell the ultimate result but you can be sure of one thing it will be some day produce a whirlwind."

Drought Checked In Some Areas Of West

Chicago, May 22.—(P)—The drought was checked, partially at least, in some areas of the parched portions of the central west.

Meanwhile reports continued to pour in from many sections of irreparable damage from the long dry spell. H. C. Donovan, a Chicago crop expert, said wheat stands in western Kansas, eastern Colorado and Nebraska were virtually ruined.

Crops in other sections of the wheat belt, he added, may be saved if heavy rains fall within the next two weeks.

BROOKLYN BOARD IN MEETING MONDAY

A special joint meeting of the Sunday school and official boards of the Brooklyn M. E. church was held Monday evening. The combined boards agreed to adopt, on the approval of the Sunday school and church membership, the change of time for the meeting of the Sunday school and morning worship service for the summer months.

Under the new plan, suggested by the Jacksonville Ministerial association, the Sunday school would meet at 9:00 a. m., and the morning worship service at 10:00 a. m. The board also voted to join the other Jacksonville churches in the union Sunday evening services.

60 POLICEMEN HELD AT BAY BY TWO MEN; ARE FINALLY NABBED

Chicago, May 22.—(P)—Sixty police men subdued two men who, barricaded in a west side flat, held six squads of officers at bay with shotguns and shouts of defiance today.

One of them, Harry Stoen, 45, was taken to a hospital as the result of a beating he received from the officers, and the other, Anthony Mrozek, an automobile mechanic, was taken to the station with Miss Rose Szczepanik, 21, who said she was a nurse for Stoen's five year old daughter, Caroline.

The disturbance first came to the attention of police when complaint was made that a bullet had been fired through the floor of Stoen's second floor quarters.

When the officers arrived, two men leaned out the window. One jeered almost incoherently in broken English, while the other fired at the policeman over his shoulder.

The officers ran for cover, demanding that they surrender.

UNCHANGED

By Helen Welshimer

I WALKED a row of twilights,
Heart hoping I would see
Your face some quiet hour,
And when you smiled at me,
Old dreams would stir, believing
That your eyes, brave and wise,
Remembering, would wander
To our brief Paradise.

ONE sun-bright noon I found you.
But no longer wore
The shining steel blue armor
That I had loved before.
Our little toad to Heaven
Wound vaguely down the hill;
Your plumes were grey and drugged...
Why do I love you still?

HOG PRICES 10 CENTS HIGHER

Chicago, May 22.—(P)—The volume of business handled in the partially closed Union Stock Yards today exceeded that of a week ago. After a weak start, the hog market responded to an increase volume of competitive buying and prices closed strong to 10 cents higher. The early top of $3.75 was surpassed by a late peak at $3.76, the cents better than that established yesterday.

Receipts of 35,000 hogs were 3,000 more than had been expected and topped offerings of both a week and a year ago.

Eleven thousand cattle were herded into the half-deserted area of cattle pens. This was 6,000 more than had been expected and almost double the sum of a week and a year ago. Prices on all grades of weighty steers were steady but the supply was light. Lower grade light cattle sold at 25 cents lower and other less desirable grades ruled off.

The sheep market was active. Lambs and aged sheep were steady to 25 cents higher. Prices generally were strong. The run of $6.00 was about what had been expected but was above average.

WHEAT PRICES FALL 2 CENTS

Chicago, May 22.—(P)—

By John P. Boughan,

Associated Press Market Editor.

Chicago, May 22.—(P)—Selling that followed President Roosevelt's announcement of his programme as to silver plunged wheat prices down 2 cents bushel today.

The wheat market break came after values had risen to 13 above yesterday's close, an advance ascribed to rather general belief that overnight rains in drought regions had been altogether insufficient to be of material help to crops. Somewhat enlarged commission house buying that developed on today's extreme decline was responsible for rallies as trading drew to an end, with much of the downturns overcome.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 cent lower, corn unchanged to 1 up, oats unchanged to 1 up, and provisions varying from 5 cents setback to a rise of 7 cents.

Violence of swings in the wheat market was attributed largely to absence of big volume trading. Numerous stop-loss orders were forced into execution by the sudden reversal of price trend after the contents of the president's silver message became known, but the selling impetus exerted itself quickly just as had been the case around the opening when the market averaged lower because of cooler weather and at least partial relief from drought. Purchasers on the upturns which followed initial declines were actuated more or less by forecasts of generally rainless skies in the spring wheat region northwest and by indications of a return of higher temperatures there.

Further incentives to purchase were found in reports that practical completion of domestic spring wheat seed showed greatly reduced acreage, many farmers having waited too long for expected rains. In addition, as authoritative spring wheat crop summaries suggested that the northwest would be fortunate if a crop of 114,000,000 bushels were harvested this year, against 176,000,000 in 1933. On the other hand, the same report said the 1934 probable domestic wheat yield might run 100,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's harvest of 351,000,000 bushels.

Corn and oats mainly paralleled the action of wheat. Shipping demand for corn showed improvement. Crop avices regarding oats continued extremely pessimistic.

SUPPLIES TALKED AT EDUCATION BOARD MEETING

School Teachers To Be Paid in Full; Canvas Large Number of Bids

Supplies to be used in the Jacksonville schools for the coming year will cost slightly less because of a large stock, not completely exhausted, purchased last year, the board of education learned last night at a special meeting at which the supplies committee, headed by Hayden Walker, was authorized to purchase material for use during the coming school year.

The board of education also announced that school teachers would be paid in full for their services during the last two months of the school term. There was some doubt not long ago that the board would be able to meet the double pay roll due at the end of this month, but through curtailing expenses all year long, they have been able to meet the full pay roll. Last year school teachers were forced to accept scrip payment for services for four and one-half months.

A large number of bids were canvassed by the board for the various supplies needed for the schools, and the supplies committee was instructed to award contracts to the lowest bidders and to those who submitted the lowest bids on the desired quality. A slight increase was noted in most of the bids.

Dr. R. O. Stoope read a letter from the state department of education to the effect that this district would continue to receive its share of the distributive fund from the sales tax until August of 1935. This amounts to approximately $1,183 a month. There was some doubt about any payment to the board out of the gasoline taxes.

Discuss Emergency Relief Labor at City Council Meet Tuesday

Means of securing emergency relief labor for city projects were laid before the city council at a special meeting last night, the council deciding to postpone any action until figures could be compiled to show how much it would cost the city to obtain the labor, and how a method was worked out to pay for the services.

D. L. Beard, head of the work department of the local relief commission office, notified the council that no workers could be assigned to any city projects after June 1 until the city had obtained workmen's compensation insurance, according to a bulletin issued by the Chicago office of the commission. J. Chester Colton, local insurance agent, explained to the council that obtaining this form of insurance was difficult, because most insurance companies had quit writing this type of insurance and the few remaining companies which would issue policies of this type refused to issue policies to cover only emergency relief workers.

Mr. Beard estimated that the city payroll would be increased $35,000 per period of a year if the city council would and could make arrangements to meet the demands of the state Emergency Relief department. He estimated that it would cost approximately $2,000 to insure the relief workers, whereas if they were not insured, the supplies which will be issued to the men on relief would be purchased either in Chicago or New York, and issued through the local office.

Financial Troubles

The council, facing its own financial troubles, was at a loss last night to find a source of revenue which would provide for paying the insurance premiums, estimated at from $2,000 to $4,000. Mr. Beard explained that workers assigned by the Emergency Relief commission would work for 35c an hour, and that they would be assigned by projects, similar to the plan followed by the C. W. A. He stated that there were several city projects, such as landscaping around the water pumping station, painting the interior of the pumping station, completing the cement work on the various alleys in the downtown district, sewer work, and street sweeping already approved, but before men could be assigned to these projects, the city would have to give some assurance that they would take care of themselves, and teaching life saving to those who have swimming ability that they may save someone else. He also spoke about the value of swimming and water sports from a health stand-point.

Mr. Eaton expressed his satisfaction concerning the local chapter's life saving program.

POINT AID SOCIETY AT MAWSON HOME

The Point Aid Society met at the church Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was in charge of the vice-president, Mrs. Herbert Mawson. Eighteen members answered to roll call. Mrs. Mary Sturdy was a guest of the society.

During the afternoon the ladies cleaned the church.

Mrs. Florence Tendick, Miss Melba Richardson and Vernon Cory attended class day and commencement exercises at Bluffton High School Thursday, where Mrs. Tendick's niece, Alma Norton graduated this year.

Additional Projects

Additional projects can be made of a clean up campaign, repairing and replacing the street signs, work on Gladstone street and other improvements. It was pointed out.

Reporting the insurance companies side of the compensation problem, Mr. Colton said that several companies formerly in this business quit writing this type of policy because of the strict Illinois laws. He told of several cases where workmen took advantage of the law in order to obtain an income, and pointed out that the rates for this type of insurance were the same regardless of which company wrote the policy, and that the state Compensation Board of Appeals had set up a schedule of payments for various injuries.

Companies writing compensation insurance, Mr. Colton continued, insist upon obtaining the entire payroll of a city government, in order to provide a larger working margin. These companies regard the regular payroll insurance plan as a profitable business, whereas insuring only temporary employees is not regarded as good business. Asked for an estimate on cost of workmen's compensation covering the entire payroll, which would include the Emergency Relief workers, Mr. Colton said he would have to have more definite data than he had at present.

Suggests Contract.

Alderman Harlan Williamson, chairman of the finance committee, offered the suggestion that Mr. Colton draw up a contract for insuring the regular employees, and that the heads of the various city departments get together and attempt to find a means of meeting this charge. To this would be added the charge for insuring the Emergency Relief workers, and it would be up to the departments to pare their expenses to take up the charge that would be against them for using social service labor.

Alderman Roy Conlee pointed out that the city has found it cheaper to pay its own workman's compensation charges in case of accident in the past. There has been only one accident in the last few years for which the city has had to set aside a certain fund each year, and this amount has been considerably cheaper than paying the insurance premium.

Mayor Wainright, who presided over the meeting, declared he believed it to be the best policy for the city with 35 persons employed, to take out a workman's compensation policy.

However, he said he realized the financial problem that would be caused by taking on any added financial burdens at this time.
